DELGADO STONE

Palletized Flagstone

There are two variations of palletized flagstone, the sawn and split options can add a natural stone element to any walkway, patio, pool or coping project. The characteristics of the two different types help fit the design needs of a range of outdoor spaces.

Quarry Steps

The Quarry Steps are irregular shapes and sizes that fall within our standard specifications. What makes this step option unique is that throughout the production and palletizing process, the sides stay natural and rough in texture.

Sawn Steps

These two sawn step options combine the beauty of natural stone steps with the benefit of easier installation. Both options have been sawn on the top, bottom and back to make it easier to install. The difference between them is the Random Run Steps keep their natural rise and sides, whereas the Dimensional Steps are sawn on every side and then a rock face or thermalled textured rise is created by hand.
